By choosing green power we support the development of cleaner and environmentally friendly energy. Wind, solar and hydropower is green energy generated from renewable resources. Across the U.S., consumers more and more often have the choice to buy green power. Going green is easy, and it offers many environmental as well as economic benefits.

Alternative Green Project supports and recognizes individuals, communities and organizations that demonstrate environmental contribution by choosing green power. Help us toward a brighter future.

Alternative Green Project is a state government initiative that helps businesses, organizations and consumers save money on existing energy bills and helps educate and support sustainable energy resources. If you are interested in supporting these renewable energy efforts, you may be interested in the Alternative Green Project.
